Enthusiastic tutor scoops top award

EXCELLENT: Marcia Mendoza will go on to the UK finals

A TUTOR from Barking and Dagenham College has officially schooled her opponents by clinching an award for her expertise in science, technology, engineering and maths (STEM).

Marcia Mendoza, learning coordinator at the college, scooped the ENTHUSE award for excellence in STEM teaching at a ceremony at the Royal Society on Monday, April 24.

Marcia thanked college leaders for their backing, saying, 'with continued support and encouragement from the college's senior leadership, I know that our STEM work will go from strength to strength'.

Marcia and other winners from London and South East England will go on to the UK-wide finals and attend a prestigious event at the Houses of Parliament in London.

NO JAIL FOR DEALER

● Serial killer's drugs supplier avoids prison term

A MAN who supplied drugs to serial killer Stephen Port has been spared jail.

Gerald Matovu, 23, of Great Guildford Street, Southwark, admitted supplying mephedrone (also known as meow meow) and GHB to Port between July 1 and August 31, 2015.

Port, 42, of Cooke Street, Barking, used GHB to knock his victims out then sexually assaulted and murder them.

He was convicted last year of murdering Anthony Walgate, 23, from Golders Green, Gabriel Kovari, 22, from Barking, Daniel Whitworth, 21, from Gravesend, and Jack Taylor, 25, of Dagenham, after drugging them to have sex.

Port was given a whole-life jail term. He was also convicted of drugging and raping or sexually assaulting seven other men.

Matovu was not convicted of supplying the drugs used in the murders.

The Metropolitan Police said: "The offences came to light during the investigation into Port's extensive crimes.

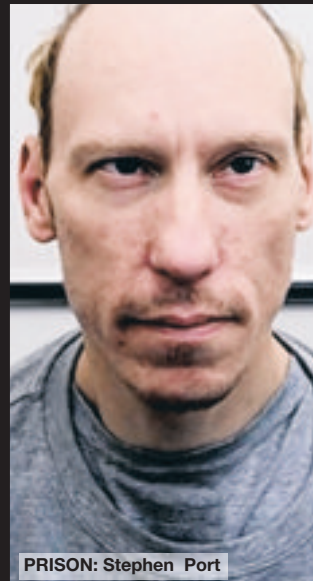

"Port bought the drugs from Matovu for use during consensual sex with his partner. Phone records and downloads from electronic devices belonging to Port clearly showed contact with Matovu and Port had described Matovu as his drug dealer to his partner.

"In messages, Matovu told Port he had 'loads of G' and asked how much he wanted."

Matovu was sentenced at Southwark Crown Court on Wednesday, April 26, and given a 12-month community order. He was ordered to carry out 150 hours' unpaid work and 40 days of drug rehabilitation.

SENTENCE: Gerald Matovu

PRISON: Stephen Port

SWEDE DREAMS: Thank You For The Music is coming to Southend

Number one Abba and Bee Gees tribute show

THE UK's number one live concert tribute show to Abba and the Bee Gees is coming to the Cliffs Pavilion, Southend, and we are giving away FOUR pairs of tickets to see it.

The world's longest-running Abba concert show is coming to town on Friday, June 30, to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Swedish supergroup's biggest selling hit – Dancing Queen.

The song was a million-selling, number one hit in 13 countries and forms the climax to the international hit stage show Thank You for the Music.

The production, which features the UK's most successful Bee Gees revue, is now in its 23rd year.

Producer Michael Taylor says the show has been delighting fans for longer than Agnetha, Björn, Benny and Anni-Frid did during the 1970s and '80s.

"Combining lycra-tight harmonies with superb musicianship, Thank You for the Music has outlasted Abba in their prime.

"Dancing Queen represents the pinnacle of the group's career, and we have produced a brand new show rocking the sound of 'the right music' for 2017."

The set list, drawn from Abba's nine number one hit singles, nine chart-topping albums and 19 top 20 singles in the UK, includes Super Trouper, Waterloo, Mamma Mia, Thank You for the Music, Knowing Me Knowing You and Dancing Queen.

Thank You for the Music also features show stealers

The Magic of the Bee Gees, backed by a live band, who will perform original Bee Gees' hits such as Stayin' Alive, Massachusetts, Night Fever and How Deep is Your Love, as well as million-sellers penned by the group including Islands in the Stream and Chain Reaction.

For more information and tickets visit www.southendtheatres.org.uk or call the box office on 01702 351135.

For a chance to win one of four pairs of tickets to see the show at 8pm on Friday, June 30, answer this question.

Q: Dancing Queen was a number one hit in how many countries?

A: 12

Appeal after teenagers attacked by gang

POLICE are searching for motorists who may have witnessed a brutal attack on two teenage boys.

The victims - each aged 16 - were attacked by a gang with a baseball bat and a knife.

One escaped with minor injuries but the other was stabbed three times.

They were attacked as they walked down Billet Road, Hornchurch, shortly before 10.20pm on Thursday, February 23.

They were approached by a group of males they did not know, who then carried out the attack.

The teens both required hospital treatment but have both since been discharged.

Detectives said CCTV images showed three vehicles 'in convoy' passing the incident. The officers believe the drivers may have witnessed the attack.

They believe the cars are a white Fiat Punto, a silver, grey or light blue five-door Vauxhall Astra and a silver, gold or light blue five-door Ford Fiesta.

DC Dan Costis, from Havering CID, said: "We are appealing for anyone who witnessed the attack to please contact us as soon as possible."

The force urged anyone with information to contact Havering CID by dialling 01708 779209.

Alternatively, call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Pudsey puts a spring in the steps of dance troupe

Group secures £10,000 from BBC Children in Need to help inspire young to realise potential

A DANCE troupe in Barking and Dagenham has received £10,000 from BBC's Children in Need.

Barking and Dagenham Youth Dance (BDYD) has been allocated the grant to provide dance fitness classes for children and young people who are affected by poverty.

The project will deliver three classes a week.

Georgina Alexiou, founder and project manager at Barking and Dagenham Youth Dance, said: "BDYD's project, funded by BBC Children in Need, will inspire and encourage children and young people affected by poverty to realise their potential in a safe environment.

"We are keen to empower the children and young people and give them the ability to make confident decisions whilst learning important life skills such as good communication and understanding the importance of committing to a goal."

This latest boost from the charity's small grants programme brings the total invested in the borough to more than £319,900.

Katie Higginson, BBC Children in Need Regional

Head of London and the South East, said: "I am always so inspired by the difference our funded projects make to children and young people who face challenges in their lives."

"In the last year, thanks to the generosity of our fundraisers and supporters, we have helped improve the lives of over 78,000 children and young people in London and the South East."

"We are currently supporting 550 projects making a difference for disadvantaged children and young people across the region."

NEWS IN BRIEF

● A MAN who admitted fly-tipping in Dagenham in February was ordered to pay fines and costs totalling almost £9,000.

Calvin Browne, 38, of Siviter Way, Dagenham, pleaded guilty after being charged with seven offences committed in Barking and Dagenham and in Newham, resulting in a joint investigation between both councils.

Browne paid £8,841.90, made up of a £6,000 fine, £2,671.80 costs and a £170 victim surcharge.

Cllr Laila Butt, cabinet member for enforcement and community safety, said: "I hope this sends out a warning to others that we will take a tough stance on people who feel it is okay to act in a manner that is socially irresponsible – we will find them and prosecute them."

● FAMILIES with disabled children or young people can apply for grants and purchase short breaks.

Short breaks 4 Me, an e-market site, includes information on breaks from providers.

Personal short break grants offer parents and carers a chance to arrange their own short breaks.

Applicants can access free sporting activities for children with additional needs, including health and leisure, family activities, holiday and travel, eating out, group activities and other specialist provision.

For all enquiries email the team at the Heathway Centre at shortbreaks4me@lbbd.gov.uk or call 020 8227 5500.

Headteacher and two schools in the running for awards

A HEADTEACHER and two schools from Barking and Dagenham have been short-listed for this year's prestigious Times Educational Supplement Awards.

Paul Jordan, of Thames View Infants School, is in line for Headteacher of the Year, while Eastbury

Community School has been nominated for the maths teacher or team plus science, technology and engineering teacher or team prizes.

David Dickson, Executive Headteacher of Eastbury School, said: "I am extremely pleased to hear that Eastbury has been nationally recognised again, and the news makes me feel even more proud and privileged to be the Executive Headteacher of such an amazing school."

"At Eastbury everybody is constantly trying to improve results and life chances of our students."

Dagenham Park CofE School is shortlisted for English teacher or the team of the year title.

Cllr Evelyn Carpenter, cabinet member for educational attainment and school improvement, said: "This is great news and it's further evidence Barking and Dagenham has some of the best schools and teachers in the country."

"However, I can assure our residents that we will not rest on our laurels in our drive to make sure our children and young people get the best education anywhere in the country."

Adventures in the forest

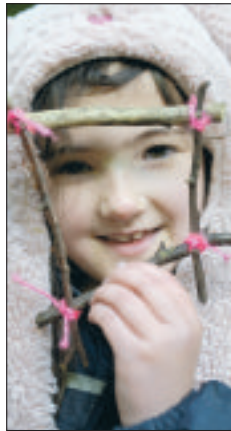

PUPILS at Parklands Infants School in Romford indulged in a rich variety of activities in Hainault Forest to broaden their life skills.

A total of 120 children from year two went orienteering, cooked hot dogs and built shelters for bugs over two days of adventure-packed fun.

The school has a designated site in the forest where pupils go every week.

Headteacher Margy Bushell said: "The children and adults had a fantastic time, they fully engaged in the activities even though we had sunshine, rain, hail and a snow shower. I think that everyone will sleep well. A big thank you to everyone who helped to make our forest school experiences enjoyable."

James Mace, who works at Walthamstow School for Girls, digitally restored an old photo of a teacher taking a picture with his students from the 1920s to show how work has changed with modern advances.

He recreated the scene with a variety of pupils from Walthamstow schools.

The picture is part of a series of images showing how technology changed the nature of different professions. A sign-painter, taxi driver and courier are some of the other occupations photographed. The jobs were chosen to highlight how the absence of technology made life difficult for workers.

The original black and white photographs were taken between 1870 and 1920.

THE presenter of Disney's Art Attack helped Hornchurch pupils mark St George's Day in the most artistic way possible.

Lloyd Warbey teamed up with children at RJ Mitchell Primary School on Tuesday, April 25, to create a giant work of art which is now on permanent display in the school hall.

Pupils used up-cycled materials such as felt and buttons they collected to create a piece depicting a Spitfire, highlighting the school's links to RAF Hornchurch.

The school is built on the parade ground of RAF

Hornchurch, an airfield with important roles in the First World War and during The Battle of Britain.

A school spokesperson said: "It was a fantastic and creative day based upon the school's history, there has been a lovely buzz."

Tottenham Hotspur 2-0 Arsenal
Brian Jeeves reporting from White Hart Lane

SECOND-HALF goals from Dele Alli and Harry Kane from the penalty spot ensured that Tottenham Hotspur earned the bragging rights as well as three vital points in a hugely one-sided north London derby.

As well as desperately needing three points to close the gap on leaders Chelsea, Spurs went into the match with the knowledge a victory would guarantee that they would finish above their rivals for the first time in 21 years.

It was almost an explosive start from the home side with Kane twisting and turning before forcing Gunners keeper Petr Cech into an awkward save low to his left, while Christian Eriksen saw his attempt deflected behind and Toby Alderweireld nodded wide from the resulting corner.

Spurs continued to press. Ben Davies's angled attempt was deflected into the side netting, while Alli somehow headed wide from close range after Kane had centred.

It seemed like only a matter of time before the home side made their pressure pay. Eriksen clipped the top of the bar after Son provided the opening. However, with their first meaningful foray forward, Hugo Lloris was forced into a superb save at the foot of an upright to keep out Aaron Ramsey's strike.

Then, Alexis Sanchez curled an angled effort over as the Gunners continued to find their feet.

Shortly before the break Cech brilliantly turned away Vertonghen's thumping strike as the home side continued to probe.

The Gunners keeper was at it again immediately after the interval, turning over Victor Wanyama's attempt as it looked destined for the top corner of the net, then grasping Kane's drive from distance.

At the other end, Olivier Giroud fired over as Arsenal looked to stem the tide of Tottenham attacks.

But just before the hour mark Spurs grabbed an advantage. Cech saved Eriksen's initial attempt, but Alli followed up to slot home from close range.

Before the crowd had a chance to settle, Gabriel appeared to fell Kane, and the Spurs frontman doubled the home side's advantage from the resulting spot-kick.

Arsenal were at sixes and sevens as the home side continued to launch wave after wave of attacks.

Cech again denied Vertonghen with arguably the save of the season, then thwarted both Kane and Alderweireld in quick succession.

But in truth, those around him looked bruised and beaten by a side intent on taking out two decades of frustration on their rivals.

Theo Walcott's lazy late effort direct at Lloris appeared to sum up Arsenal's disappointing afternoon.

Speaking after the match, Spurs chief Mauricio Pochettino, said: "I feel very proud – first of all, because the players gave their best. I think they were fantastic – and also our fans, I feel very happy for them."

"I think it was a fantastic game. We fully deserved the victory in the end."

"We have reduced the gap again with Chelsea. For us now we have to be focused because we have ahead an important game with West Ham."

Arsenal boss Arsene Wenger said: "I think it was a tight game until they scored the first goal. Then we conceded a soft penalty. It took us time to recover from that."

"From then on they created chances. We were a bit lucky to keep it at 2-0 in the end."

Tottenham Hotspur are next in Premier League action on Friday, May 5 when they take on West Ham United at the London Stadium (8pm).

Bore draw brings Hammers closer to safety

Stoke City 0-0 West Ham United Brian Jeeves reporting from the bet365 Stadium

WEST HAM United moved a step closer to securing their Premier League status by picking up a useful point from a lacklustre goalless encounter on Saturday.

West Ham were again without the services of Andy Carroll, who was nursing a groin injury.

Robert Snodgrass had recovered from a knee injury and Mark Noble returned to the squad following his two-match ban, but both had to be content with a place on the bench.

Hosts Stoke welcomed back goalkeeper Jack Butland for his first home match in 10 months.

Manuel Lanzini tested Butland's resolve as West Ham, looking to extend their unbeaten sequence to four matches, were the first to threaten. Meanwhile, Winston Reid produced a wonderful block to thwart Saido Berahino as the home side probed for an opening of their own.

Stoke enjoyed the better of the opening exchanges, with Xherdan Shaqiri and Berahino continuing to trouble the Hammers rearguard.

When the visitors did spring forward, Jonathan Calleri was horribly wayward after Edimilson Fernandes had teed him up.

Reid and Jose Fonte combined to shut out Berahino following a flowing Stoke move down the right.

Meanwhile, Butland had to move swiftly to deal with Andre Ayew's acrobatic attempt following Arthur Masuaku's centre.

West Ham finished the half brightly, Butland was again in the thick of it, denying Ayew with his feet.

Just before the break, Calleri tried to be too clever. Bruno Martins Indi was on hand to block his close-range "rabona" attempt when the Hammers man could have simply swept it into the net.

Joe Allen fired into the side-netting, while Shaqiri passed up a decent chance as the home side swept forward at the start of the second period.

Hammers keeper Adrian had to be on his toes to turn over Shaqiri's vicious angled drive, then got lucky as another effort from Allen spun from his grasp.

Butland brilliantly saved from Ayew and Lanzini in quick succession as West Ham began to attack with greater conviction.

The visitors had Adrian to thank for somehow keeping out Marko Arnautovic after Shaqiri had robbed James Collins and centred.

Potters substitute Peter Crouch headed a late chance over, but in truth, neither side deserved the win in a disappointing encounter.

West Ham are next in action on Friday, May 5 when Spurs visit the London Stadium (8pm).

Stoke City: Jack Butland, Glen Johnson, Ryan Shawcross (capt), Bruno Martins Indi, Marc Muniesa, Joe Allen (Peter Crouch 69'), Glenn Whelan (Charlie Adam 79'), Geoff Cameron, Xherdan Shaqiri, Saido Berahino, Marko Arnautovic. Subs not used: Lee Grant, Phil Bardsley, Erik Pieters, Charlie Adam, Mamie Diouf, Ramadan

Non-league round-up

Relegation for Braintree Town

By Brian Jeeves

BRAINTREE Town slipped out of the National League's top-flight after a 2-0 defeat at promotion hopefuls Aldershot Town at the Recreation Ground.

Two second-half goals in the space of four minutes from Will Evans and Bernard Mensah saw the Shots secure a play-off place, but sending the Iron plunging into the National South.

Dagenham & Redbridge had already earned a play-off place and wound up their regular campaign with a 1-1 draw with Woking at Victoria Road. Max Kretschmar gave the visitors a 12th minute lead, with Scott Heard levelling for the Daggers in the final stages.

Chelmsford City are now looking forward to a two-legged National League South play-off clash with old adversaries Dartford.

The Clarets faced a fired-up Hungerford Town side in their final league match of the season and took the lead thanks to a Josh Rees goal just after the hour mark. The home side hit back to take a share of the spoils when former Southend United man Louie Soares found the net 10 minutes from time.

East Thurrock United also grabbed a point. Kye Ruel fired the Rocks in front against Wealdstone at Rookery Hill only for Joe White to restore parity before the break.

Meanwhile, Concord Rangers slipped to a 1-0 defeat at Hampton & Richmond Borough. Nathan Collier with the only goal midway through the first half.

With the Ryman League's regular season already closed, there was just the small matter of the play-offs to contend, with a big local presence involved in the Division One North shake-up.

Maldon & Tiptree faced Thurrock for a place in the Premier Division. The Jammers reached the final with an incredible 5-4 win over Haringey Borough. Liam Nash hit a hat-trick for Maldon, while Sam Newton and Adam Mills were also on target. Ralston Gabriel scored twice for Borough, with Rakim Richards and Chris Benjamin completing the scoring for the unlucky North Londoners.

Meanwhile, Remi Sutton's 12th-minute strike was enough to carry Thurrock past AFC Hornchurch in front of a healthy 481 crowd at Ship Lane. And it was Thurrock who took their place in the Ryman Premier Division next season after Ronnie Winn's goal in the final stages was enough to edge out a Maldon side who had led the title race for much of the campaign but heartbreakingly ended up missing out on promotion.

Essex Senior League champions Barking slipped to a surprise 5-2 defeat at the hands of Stansted at Mayesbrook Park.

But it has been an excellent campaign for the east London side who finished with 100 points.

Hullbridge Sports thrashed Sporting Bengal United by five goals to nil at Lower Road. Barkingside were 4-2 winners over Enfield 1893. Meanwhile, Takeley beat Ilford by a single goal at Station Road.

Waltham Forest completed their season with a 3-2 success over Southend Manor.

Selected action from the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League saw Canning Town win their Premier Division clash at Buckhurst Hill 2-0, while Springfield were resounding 4-1 winners over Manford Way.

Division One champions Basildon Town triumphed by three goals to nil at Hutton, but the big winners of the day were Shenfield AFC who thumped Newbury Forest 8-2.

In Division Two, Benfleet were 4-0 winners at Lakeside, while FC Hamlets were successful against Herongate Athletic 4-3.
